Hilltop Fun Fest Returns

June 13, 2015

Unless you've been hibernating (not a bad idea, considering our winter weather this year), you must be aware that Hilltop Fun Fest is back, bringing with it all of the excitement of last year! On Saturday, June 13 from 5:00 to 9:00 PM, our hilltop will be alive with music, cornhole tournaments, children's activities, displays from local service organizations, Slate Hill's famous barbecue chicken, and our own ice cream truck, all free and all returning from last year.

This year, thanks to the creativity and tireless work of our beloved volunteers, we are excited to add a petting zoo to the list of offerings! What child doesn't thrill to nuzzle a cuddly lamb, pet a woolly alpaca, hold a downy chick or be dazzled by a peacock's tail? Come to think of it, what adult doesn't thrill to the same things? Channel your inner child and make plans to commune with some of God's cutest creations in our newest addition to HFF! All of this is being planned to build and strengthen relationships, both within our congregation and the community, practice hospitality, and have fun living our faith.

With all of these great offerings, it is easy to lose sight of the best part of HFF: the amazing people with whom we create relationships. Last year, among our guests was a woman and her family who saw our flash mob at the Capital City Mall. She has Mennonite heritage and was interested in learning more about her heritage; the open invite was what she needed to come up the hill. We also hosted a new Christian (an international student from Messiah College) who came and brought four of her closest friends/supporters. All five shared deeply with SH folks.

In order to help get the word out, we have been reaching out to the community electronically through our own webpage at www.hff2015.com and a Facebook page. The website features a slideshow of photos from last year's Hilltop Fun Fest along with a list of offerings for this year's event. Be sure to check it out along with the Facebook page and don't forget to "like" us! (We certainly like you!)

"Mr. Big Bucks" is Still At It!

Rod Petersheim has had several takers on his offer for a $20 bill. These creative and industrious individuals will "invest" that money in order to raise additional funds in support of Hilltop Fun Fest 2015. The best news is that seed money is still available. To become part of it, all you need to do is ask Rod or contact him at rspetersheim@verizon.net and he will give you $20! Use the funds to make more money by employing your creativity and God-given talents. The multiplied money is due by May 17 to Rod, and we'd love to hear how you used your seed money!

For those who want to support Hilltop Fun Fest but don't have the time or energy to invest seed money, don't despair! Envelopes are available in the Hilltop Fun Fest display in the coffee area. Each one describes a need for a huge variety of expenses for Hilltop Fun Fest. You get to choose what activity or items you would like to sponsor and donations are available for every budget level. Take whichever envelope (or envelopes!) strikes your fancy, place your donation inside, and return it to the Hilltop Fun Fest mailbox. Checks can be made out to Slate Hill Mennonite Church with "Hilltop Fun Fest" in the memo line. Please give cash in your envelope directly to Cassandra Ly or Roger Myers. Donations will remain anonymous and, please, don't be shy about taking more than one!

An Invitation to Come Down from the Hill!

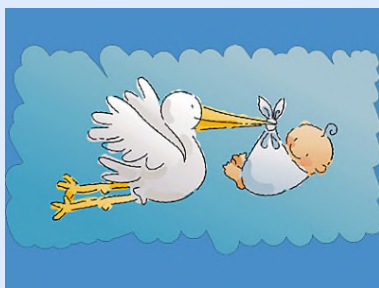

While the Fun Fest will take place "on the hill" where many Slate Hillers feel most comfortable, in July, Slate Hill has been invited to take some of the fun into the community.

Some of the clients who frequent the Life Time Adult Day Care raved so much about the fun they had at the 2015 Spring Fling, that Slate Hill has been asked if any volunteers could help them orchestrate a mini-carnival for their guests.

Life Time, located behind Denny's and T-Mobile on the Carlisle Pike, caters to senior citizens and those with intellectual disabilities. On Friday, July 17, 2015, at 1:00PM, Life Time will have a carnival for their guests using several of the games made for the 2015 Spring Fling.

Slate Hillers are invited to contact Ulli Klemm if they'd like to lend a helping hand. Kids and families would be most welcome. Time commitment is from 1:00-3:00 PM. Life Time Adult Day Care is located at 3 Crossgate Drive, Mechanicsburg PA 17050 and is affiliated with The Arc of Cumberland and Perry Counties (CPARC)

Congratulations!

Lynley and Daniel Lapp were blessed with a son, Rainier George, on Saturday, April 25. Rainier weighed 7 pounds and 12 ozs. and is 20.5 inches long. .

Worship and Play

That about sums up the beautiful spring day when Slate Hill was joined in worship by the residents of Cumberland Vista (group home for intellectually challenged adults) then treated to a relaxing afternoon at the ballpark.

During the worship service, the residents, pretending to be King Hezekiah and Levite priests, proceeded down the aisle with "sacrifices," incense, and the Hebrew Scriptures in hand as they offered worship to God. Based on 2 Chronicles 29, the topic of Pastor Lynn's sermon, the group played drums, cymbals and tambourines, inviting everyone to praise God in song.

After the service, the group attended the Walk Across the Room Sunday School class, where they joined in discussing questions posed by teacher, Tom Miller. Afterward, they enjoyed a lunch of pizza, veggies and cookies, the latter made by Theda Klemm, before they all headed to City Island for the ballgame.

The residents were treated to the game by Slate Hillers who donated the funds for them to attend. Several individuals and families donated sufficient funds to not only pay for the tickets, but for each resident to have a food voucher for one hot dog, a soda and a bag of chips. Highlights of the afternoon included residents Derrick Eshenour catching a Senator's T-Shirt in his baseball glove during entertainment between innings, and when Jimmy Redline received a game ball from another fan. All residents received a free Senator's visor as their thanks for being part of this special outing.

While the Senator's lost 4-3 on a solo home run by the Reading Fighting Phils in the top of the ninth inning, smiles were pasted on the faces of the 26 folks who joined the affair.

In addition to the residents from Cumberland Vista and their staff, the following enjoyed the afternoon together: Matt Bergey, Tyler Kratz, Tom Miller, Isaiah Zercher, Joshua Dean, Theda and Ulli Klemm, Cindy and Gary Musselman, Irv Eshenour, Brett Eshenour, Avery DeGru-chy, Megan Dubbs, Bob and Deborah Saline, Sara and Lewis Mayes and Eric Zimmerman.

Thank you to all the donors who made this event possible.

URGENT MCC NEEDS

Quilters:

We need your help! The MCC Material Resources Center in Ephrata, Pa., is looking for quilters who can help finish quilts to display at the upcoming Mennonite World Conference Assembly in Harrisburg in July.

The quilt room is open Monday through Thursday (8:30 a.m. - 3:00 p.m.), as well as some Monday evenings. Please call (717) 733-2847 2847 to schedule a time to volunteer.

MCC Relief and Hygiene Kits: (numbers below were prior to Nepal earthquake– needs have escalated!)

2,000 relief kits ~ 8,000 hygiene kits ~ 2,000 blankets

Multiple situations of crisis around the world such as Syria, Iraq, Gaza and Ukraine have depleted MCC's warehouse inventory. Please help MCC replenish it's supply to continue responding to needs around the world.

Looking for a hands-on project that makes a difference? Care groups, Sunday School classes, families, friends, etc. can join together to assemble one or multiple kits. If the group members prefer to donate money, appoint a shopper to gather the supplies.

The supplies that MCC sends around the world offer comfort to families facing disaster or crisis. They're also a tangible way you can share God's love and compassion, reminding people that their needs are not forgotten.

MCC plans shipments carefully in order to meet local needs and to send high-quality items that can withstand the harsh conditions faced by people receiving the supplies.

See what you can do to be part of making MCC kits or comforters. Please contact Becky Degan at BeckyDegan@mw-cmm.org (phone: 717-419-5337) for more information and a supply list for each kit.

Caregiving Tips for Traveling With Seniors

Marlo Sollitto

Just because you're caring for an elderly loved one doesn't mean you have to cancel the annual family vacation. With a little planning, you can still get away and have an enjoyable time.

Registered nurse Renata Gelman, clinical manager for Partners in Care, an affiliate of The Visiting Nurse Service of New York, shared with AgingCare.com her tips for planning a vacation with an elderly loved one:

Get doctor clearance. Consult with the elder's primary care physician before booking any travel to discuss these issues: Is the destination you've chosen appropriate for your parent's abilities and limitations? Do they need any special vaccinations? Are there medications or supplements to help if anxiety or another mental health arises? Get prescriptions for all your parent's medications and get them filled before you leave.

Pre-plan accommodations. If you're renting a car, a mini-van is a more easily accessible vehicle than a two-door car. If your parent has a wheelchair, walker or other mobility equipment, make sure it's going to fit in the vehicle you choose. If flying, request seat assignments in the rows designated for disabled travelers. If there is meal service aboard, advise the reservation system of any dietary needs. Make sure the airline and hotel can accommodate any assistive medical equipment your parent uses. If walking is difficult, consider requesting a wheelchair so that an airport employee is assigned to help you get from place to place in the airport. When booking hotels, request a room on the first floor.

Scale back. Be realistic about the amount of activity, walking and traveling your parent can do. Keep the trip simple. If your parent has limited mobility, renting a one-story lake-front cottage within driving distance will be more enjoyable than a whirlwind jaunt overseas, or a walking-intense trek to Disneyworld. Plan your itinerary carefully. Research each destination to ensure it can accommodate your elder's special needs. Allow plenty of time for rest and don't over-schedule.

Have essentials close at hand. If your loved one is going to be sitting in a car or on a plane for extended periods, buy supportive stockings to prevent blood clots and numbness. Pack light clothes which can be layered. Take basic medical information everywhere you go, in case of emergency. Other essentials to have on hand at all times, especially in the summer heat, are a hat, sunscreen, snacks and most importantly, water. Elders get dehydrated quickly.

If your loved one has dementia or Alzheimer's disease, consider these tips as well:

Stick with routine. Knowing what to expect throughout the day is crucial for people with Alzheimer's or dementia. It reduces stress, anxiety and fear. Try to keep mealtimes, bedtimes and medication schedules as close to the home routine as possible. To minimize the confusion of being in a new environment, bring a few favorite objects to create a sense of home.

Communicate. Before and during each activity, tell your loved one where you are going and what you will be doing. On the other hand, do not overload the person with complicated directions or too much information.

Find serenity. Avoid very loud restaurants and places with a lot of people if the person is overly tired. Do not move too quickly or appear too hurried.

Know the warning signs. Learn to recognize warning signs of anxiety and agitation. If your loved one is becoming agitated, remove him or her from the environment. Find a quiet setting where you can be alone and let him or her calm down.

Watch the clock. Sundowner's Syndrome increases fear and agitation just before dark. Get back to the room before the sun goes down. Lower the curtains and turn on lights, to lessen the drastic change from day to night.

Mission Opportunities!

Like many of you, I am welcoming Spring with open arms! Now that snow shovels and snow blowers are packed away, I am ready to move on to warmer activities. As the temperature is getting warmer outdoors, things are heating up at Slate Hill as well. The chili cook-off was a fun way to start heating things up. With another successful chicken barbecue in the books and the annual church retreat just around the corner, we are in full swing. Before you know it, hundreds of guests will be arriving to enjoy a blessed hilltop experience at Fun Fest 2015!

Looking ahead, God has some great things in store for our congregation, one being the World Conference this summer. Plans are being implemented and soon host-homes will prepare for world-wide guests. With all of these exciting upcoming events there will be many chances to connect, engage, and relate to others this Spring and Summer.

I would like to fill you in on just one more exciting opportunity God has put on our doorstep. Prior to the world conference, Harrisburg will host the Mennonite Health Forum on July 19-21. For those three days healthcare professionals and their families will be travelling to our capitol from all over the world to attend the forum hosted by the Mennonite Health Fellowship. MHF asked Slate Hill to host the children of these families. Currently members of the Christian Education Commission are planning crafts, games and transportation for the children of the MHF families. CEC is using the same theme, 'Walking Together for Healthy Communities', in order to provide a cohesive experience for the children. CEC graciously asks for your prayers as we continue to organize activities and work out transportation issues. We also ask for prayers for the families and individuals who will be travelling for the forum, as well as those who are working hard to plan the conference. Look for an update in the Hilltop News later this summer!

If you want to share a registration with someone, please let Fran Leiter know so she can help coordinate interested persons.

Record Sell-Out at BBQ

While it is well known that Slate Hill neighbors flock to its famous Chicken BBQs, history was made on Sat., April 11 when we sold a record number of chicken in the shortest time ever. On that day the strong breezes seemed to send a flowing stream of customers up the hill. All 720 half-chickens were sold, mostly as full dinners, by 12:15. Proceeds are estimated to be about $3,500 which will be reinvested in our community and the world.

By 10:40AM a line of cars had already circled around the back of the church. Thereafter, cars were lined up for much of the long, main driveway leading up to Slate Hill. An enthusiastic team of volunteers were in place to welcome our guests. From directing traffic to taking and filling orders, the BBQ went smoothly without any hitches.

As sometimes happens, fewer "Chicken Only" orders were requested by customers, so rolls and cookies ran out, then by 12:15 there was NOTHING left!

Special thanks to all who ordered and picked up the necessary supplies ahead of time: Joy Fasick (water), Ray Leiter (rolls), Gene Musselman (cookies), Roger Springer (potatoes), Cindy Musselman (paper supplies), Carl Lehman (chicken and charcoal), Ulli (applesauce).

MANY sincere thanks as well to:

- Friday night prep volunteers (including Bob and Deborah Saline who couldn't be here Sat., the White family on the eve of their big move, and first-timers Abby, Uriah, Judah and Jesse Paker! Others in attendance were: Ernest Hartzler, Gene Mussleman, Fran and Ray Leiter, Chris and Rachel Zimmerman, and Ulli Klemm).
- Fran Leiter, Rachel Zimmerman (she took the early bird shift!) and Bonnie Lehman for baking Roger Springer's Farm Show potatoes to perfection!
- Chicken grillers: Carl Lehman, Lyndon Hess, Charlie Smith, Jeff Beck, Ernest Hartzler, Lamarr Widmer, Jim Mitchell, Paul Nisley and Ben Fasick. They braved early cold temps as well as a stiff wind all morning.
- Flagman (Chris Zimmerman); greeter (Denise Moyer); runners and managers (Tom Miller, Kelvin Klemm, Lamarr Widmer, Ron & Rhoda Hershey, Isaac Shertzer, Linda Mininger), chicken baggers (Ernest Hartzler, Theda Klemm, Yoomie and Hope Onelangsy, Alexia, Ellie, and Noah Shertzer), money and number folk (Joshua Dean and Gene Mussleman), "water boys/girls" (Casandra Ly, Noreen Lehman, Ben Fasick) and assembly line folk (Ruth Ritchie, Ellie Fasick, Tara and Sara Mayes, Janet Zimmerman, Mabel Lehman, Dwayne & Lucinda Gish, Richard Mininger, Connie Williamson, Joelle Beck, Tara and Olivia Hess and Rick Onelangsy) who made it look so easy.
- Amanda Musselman for coordinating everything on the assembly Line.
- Paul Zimmerman and Lamarr Widmer for power-washing the grills.
- Ray Leiter, Dawn Shertzer and Ken Eshleman sanitizing the chicken and potato boxes.
- Uriah and Judah Parker and Ulli Klemm for taking down all the signs scattered throughout the community.
- Jeremey Stoltzfus who managed the Blood Drive.
- Fran Leiter for cleaning the backroom where BBQ supplies are stored.

My apologies for any inadvertent omissions. May God be praised!

MCC East Coast Special Announcement

Help People in Nepal

Mennonite Central Committee (MCC) is requesting donations to support its response to the 7.8-magnitude earthquake that shook Nepal April 25. Focusing its initial emergency response on hard-hit rural communities, MCC is providing food, tarps, blankets and cooking pots and utensils. A longer-term response will be determined as MCC and its partners assess the situation. Please pray for the people of Nepal and the work of MCC. Donations can be made at mcc.org/nepal-earthquake or by calling 888-563-4676. Checks may be sent to MCC U.S., PO Box 500, Akron, PA, 17501-0500.

MCC relief and hygiene kits

Mennonite Central Committee (MCC) has an urgent need for relief and hygiene kits. Relief kits provide valuable supplies to families whose lives have been disrupted by war or disaster. Hygiene kits give people the supplies they need to stay healthy. In times of need, these kits provide basic necessities like towels, bar soap, toothbrushes and nail clippers, while also reminding people their needs are not forgotten. Visit mcc.org/kits or call 717-733-2847 for more information.

Salmon & Smoked Chicken Dinner

Reserve your spot for the annual CCO Salmon Diner Saturday, May 9th! Come and enjoy our families' current favorite way to eat salmon and celebrate (a few days late) Cinco de Mayo. "Triple J and Blondie" will be cooking up a delicious spread of all the fixings to build your own salmon tacos in honor of a fun restaurant in Cordova called "Baja Taco" that serves out of a red school bus. Additionally, as always we will be offering Jeremy's tasty smoked chicken in case salmon isn't your thing or you just want more food. After the meal you will hear a few short stories from a coworker and a couple of college students about their transformative experiences in the Florida Everglades and on the West Branch of the Susquehanna River.

Please sign up on the sheet on the bulletin board in the foyer by May 4th or email us at jsfoos@msn.com. Appetizers will be offered from 5:30-6:00. Seating for the meal will be at 6:00.

*The meal will be gluten-free but please alert us by May 4th of any other food allergies you have, especially eggs. ****

Susquehanna Harbor Safe Haven

Dear Friends,

Thank you so very much for all your dedication and hard work from December 1 through March 31; the overnight at Susquehanna Harbor Safe Haven closed this morning at 7 AM. Dale and Gail stayed over and cleaned everything up; we made arrangements for a thorough cleaning in the next few weeks.

I promised that we would get together, for those who may be interested, towards the end of April. That info will be sent out next week. This will give a chance to review the past season and make some decisions. The shelter cannot happen without the support, both volunteer and financial, of our faithful volunteers. I thank you for our getting through one of the coldest winters in recent years.

We were able to assist some of the men with housing and other services. Several of them had incomes, a few had jobs. Quite a few had mental health issues. God's blessings on them all!

Have a blessed Easter and I will plan to see you in a few weeks.

Dollar-for-Dollar Spring Matching Challenge for New Hope Ministries

The Spring Matching Challenge is underway. Thanks to the incredible generosity of a handful of New Hope supporters, every dollar received and designated “Spring Matching Challenge” will be matched dollar-for-dollar up to $41,000! Donations may be made through June 30th to qualify.

We are incredibly thankful, blessed, and encouraged by all donors who are making this year’s challenge possible. Thank you for your support as well, and for helping to share our mission and ministry within the church community.

In the parable of the Good Samaritan in Luke chapter 10, Jesus tells us that we are to love our neighbor as ourselves and have mercy on those who need our help. Thanks to the generosity of people like you who support our work, the volunteers and staff at New Hope change lives through hope, encouragement and the tools needed to have a better life.

A job changes everything. A young man – I’ll call him David – came to us a couple months ago looking for a way to get back on his feet. David needed help during a low point in his life. He was out of work, struggling to support his family. We helped with his basic needs including providing food for his family. David also learned about our one-day Forklift Certification Class through Harrisburg Area Community College (HACC), and thought it might be a way for him to get a fresh start. He enrolled in our class, and two short days after passing the course, David accepted a full-time job with benefits as a forklift operator with a local shipping company. Today, David’s family has food on the table, a secure place to live, and hope.

New Hope provides compassion and help for people in difficult situations, and David’s story shows that when we offer help with education and finding a job, a family’s life can turn around. It takes hard work and the right opportunity.

Would you change a life today? Here’s how your gift can impact a life like David’s:

- $1,000 could help a single mom become a Certified Nursing Assistant and gain a career that could support her family
- $400 could help a young person get a high school diploma
- $180 could purchase a half-ton of food to stock our Food Pantry
- $100 could help someone like David attain his Forklift Certification

When you support New Hope Ministries, lives are changed, and we fulfill our mission of sharing Christ’s love by meeting human needs. Thank you for helping our neighbors in need.

Gratefully,

Eric Saunders
