Worst Day Ever?
By Chanie Gorkin
Brooklyn NY
(16 years old)

Turn your world upside down and take another look to see how things change.

This world is a pretty evil place.

Even if

Some goodness does shine through once in a while

Satisfaction and happiness don't last.

And it's not true that it's all in the mind and heart

Because

True happiness can be attained

Only if one's surroundings are good.

It's not true that good exists

I'm sure you can agree that

The reality

Creates

My attitude

it's all beyond my control.

And you'll never in a million years hear me say

Today was a very good day.

Now read it the other way, from bottom to top,

And see how I really feel about my day.

Creation 2015

From Wednesday, June 24 through Sunday, June 28, 17 youth attended the Creation Festival near Mt. Union, PA. Among these youth were some who have grown up at Slate Hill, some who were new to Slate Hill, and some with no previous church experience who came along as friends. Each one was significantly impacted by the experience! Six adults assisted with this group in either full or part-time capacity. Thanks to Carreasa Jenkins, Rich Musselman, Maria Malay, Ben Simcox, Jen Musselman, and Joy Fasick for being a part of the action as well as others who worked behind-the-scenes to make the trip possible. Below is a first-hand account from one of our youth, Hope Onelangsy.

This was my second time going to Creation, and trust me, I was not expecting this much mud and rain. My whole goal at Creation was to strengthen my relationship with God and make new friends, and I'm happy to say that both of those goals have been achieved. The last time I went, I was just excited for the bands, and sure, I was this time too, but this year was different; it's crazy to think that my best memory of Creation was hearing the speakers. Their experiences with God opened my mind and heart up to the possibilities that our Lord opens us up to.

There was one guy, Bob Lentz, he talked about forgiveness, I believe. His story was that in his family, there was a shooting. A young father, his one daughter, and his wife were all shot several times while trying to feed ducks. The mother and the other daughter survived, but tragically, the father and eleven year old daughter died. I remember that I was mad at the shooter for breaking a family, but Bob then said, "The father's last words were I forgive you." I was confused as to why he would forgive such a man, but I understand that you can't live life with that weight on your shoulders. Jesus died for our sins, everybody's sins, so we have to forgive those that do wrong even if it's not in the best opinion.

Joy Fasick, our group leader, helped make Creation even more enjoyable. From her side jokes to her morning devotionals, I appreciated it all. Our first devotional on Thursday was about prayer lists. Trust me, I was reluctant to make one, but I did and it has given me such relief and more love for God than ever. These past few months have helped me and strengthened myself and my relationships. Creation was definitely a blessing because it made me realize that even if everything seems like it's going wrong, it happens because God is playing it out that way. It'll all be better in God's hands, and if you take that away, then your life will be so plain and hopeless sometimes.

To sum it all up, Creation was a muddy, bug-y, happy, an amazing religious experience. My faith for God has expanded greatly, even if I am only a fourteen year old teen girl. I'm thankful that my baptism and Creation were in the same week because that only made me realize that God can do many things if you let Him; either way, He will always be there.

SCHOOL SUPPLY Drive

~ MCC School Kits ~

Can you believe it, it's that time of year again! Where does the time get to? We are collecting school supplies again for the MCC School Kit drive to supply the needs of many around the globe who have faced some type of disaster—whether war or natural.

Each kit is packed with the following items:

- 4 spiral or perforated notebooks—70 pages each
- 8 unsharpened pencils
- 1 flexible plastic ruler marked in centimeters and inches
- 12 colored pencils in packaging
- 1 large pencil eraser

Please put your donations in the designated box located under the church mailboxes. If you have questions, please contact Myrna Eshleman. Thanks so much for your generosity!

~ Fun with Hymns ~

What would be the favorite hymn of:

An astronaut?	Lord of the World Above
A fisherman?	Shall we Gather at the River?
A pilot?	I'll Fly Away
A ship's captain?	He Leadeth Me
A gardener?	The Beautiful Garden of Prayer/In the Garden
An author?	I Love to Tell the Story

More to come in the future; what others come to your mind? Share them with us!

INSPIRE IMPACT INVEST

Do You Enjoy Children?

Would you like to inspire them to find joy in life and to reach for “the stars”?

Would you like to have a positive impact upon a child’s life?

Do you have a couple of hours of free time each week to invest in a child’s education to increase their chance of life-success?

New Hope’s afterschool programs will soon kick-off a new school year! We are excited to announce the expansion of our Seeds of Success (SOS) Program for elementary school children to FIVE DAYS A WEEK in Mechanicsburg, Dover, Wellsville, Dillsburg, Wertzville Road, Enola, Lemoyne and New Cumberland.

Mechanicsburg’s program will run from 2:30-4:30pm; all others will be held from 3:30-5:30pm. WE NEED VOLUNTEERS!!!

Please use the control key and click here to access our special online Volunteer Application just for this program. Thank you!

Time to Tee-up!

Registration is now OPEN for sponsors and golfers for this year’s Golf Fore Hope event, taking place on Friday, September 18th.

Please use the control key and click here for more details and to register online now.

Thanks for your continued support and food donations! Some of our most-requested items are cans of meat, fruit, and vegetables, as well as condiments, peanut butter, toiletries, and household cleaners.

The Back-to-School season is also upon us and school supplies (and volunteers) are urgently needed for the August 7th Back to School Craze.

There are many volunteer support positions available in need of staffing; if you have a few hours a week, or even a month, please log into the website (www.nhm-pa.org) or stop by the center for an application.

Why Such A Big Computer?

Bible translation is very difficult without computers and the associated technology. Translations that used to take thirty years or more now take twelve years or less. Computers require maintenance. This is why IT Services are so important. A case in point is Heidi's experience.

Heidi's computer would overheat and shut down, and the fan was really loud. She brought it to our department for help. Her Dell Precision had one of the largest screens Dell put on its notebook computers. We all wondered why she needed such a big computer.

I opened her computer and removed the dust ball collecting between the heat sink and the micro-processor fan. Unfortunately that did not solve the problem. I then replaced the mother board, a much more ambitious project.

When Heidi came back to pick up her computer, we asked her why she needed such a big screen. She told us about her work with translators in Nigeria. Heidi is assisting translation teams in publishing the Scriptures in their language from start to finish. She is working on "camera ready" final drafts of New Testament and full Bibles to prepare them for printing. Every detail needs to be carefully checked, including footnotes, to make sure it all lines up properly on the page. For this reason, Heidi needs a large screen so she can see two open pages at the same time and still be able to see every detail of the layout and text.

Heidi is very grateful for the innovations in technology and special translation software that enables her to do her work. She normally serves in third-world countries, where the battery in her notebook computer protects it from power fluctuations and outages. Unfortunately, she had to come back to the US to care for a chronically ill family member. Meanwhile, the portability of her notebook computer enables her to work from home, the office, or even the hospital. And it also provides much-needed communication with the Nigerian translators she works with through email, Skype, file transfer, etc. Heidi finds it extremely encouraging that she is able to continue serving translation teams in Nigeria even while caring for a family member on the other side of the world.

Hittin' the Books!

As many of you know, I am currently working toward a Master's in Counseling on the Marriage, Couple, and Family Counseling (MCFC) Track at Messiah College. The church board has chosen to provide funding towards my graduate credits. Since YOU are part of that equation, I use Hilltop articles like this to keep you informed of my progress.

In May I finished my Career Counseling Across the Lifespan class. The course provided a great opportunity to explore the benefits of meaningful work and the ways that counselors can assist people in finding work and maximizing those benefits. Like so many of my classes, it left me thankful for the great plan of our Creator!

After a short week's break, I jumped into COUN 511 – Multicultural Counseling. Thanks to the busyness that comes with Hilltop Fun Fest and Creation, juggling the demands of life in a way that allowed time for this class was a tremendous challenge! (And the reason I haven't written an update for a few months.) I am thankful that my current course plan doesn't involve any more classes at this time of year.

Multicultural Counseling focused on the many ways in which we are ALL "multicultural" beings, the experiences of oppression and discrimination that many people face every day, and specific counseling implications for a wide variety of cultural groups. It also included a project for which I selected African American teenage girls in urban settings as my focus. The immersion component of this project was deeply impactful and I submitted my project grateful for all I had learned and yet keenly aware of the knowledge and understanding that I still lack.

As you read this article, I am NOT a student!! Messiah's counseling program offers only two courses during the late summer term and I've already taken both. The six week break is by far the longest I've had in my two years of sometimes very-intensive study and I am thrilled to have it. I'm looking forward to cleaning my office, painting our deck, and spending a great deal of time with my family!

Joy Fasick

Congratulations on your great success

CONGRATULATIONS, RACHEL ANN HOOVER!

Rachael graduated from Messiah College this spring then went on to pass the National Council Licensure Examination (NCLEX™) and is now an official Registered Nurse! Congratulations, Rachel.

BOOK DISCUSSION GROUP

The Slate Hill Book Discussion Group meets the last Tuesday of every month January through October at 7:00 pm in the Conference Room. We do NOT meet in November and December because of the holidays. Come join us even if you have not read the book! We'd love to have you.

Tuesday, August 25 ~ we will discuss The Orphan Train by Christina Baker Kline.

Tuesday, September 29, we will discuss Ervin Stutzman's second book of the Return to Northkill series entitled Joseph's Dilemma.

If you have any questions, contact Kathy Krug or Dottie Seitz.

CHICKEN BBQ and BLOOD DRIVE TIME!

Sat., Sept. 12, 2015

On Sat., Sat., Sept. 12th, 2015, Slate Hill will host its next Chicken BBQ and Community Blood Drive. Our Chicken BBQ draws a huge number of community folk up the hill. There are small jobs and bigger jobs, with each job being important and necessary.

Below is a list of ways you can help:

Friday, Sept. 11, 2015, 6:00-7:30/8:00PM

- Wrap Potatoes in foil wraps.
- Place one cookie in each zip lock bag and place in boxes.
- Unpack applesauce and place on trays.
- Place garbage can by outside picnic tables for BBQ picnickers.
- Get two wooden horses from near back shed, attach Exit signs to each; and set horses out by the front of the church directing parking lot traffic to the Lisburn Road exit.
- Place "Thank you for coming" sign at bottom of Lisburn Entrance.
- Place folding tables inside the church lobby.
- Place largest coolers in foyer lobby.
- Set up "Drive Thru ► / Parking ▲" sign at top of the Slate Hill driveway.
- Set up Traffic circle with METAL chairs and Caution tape so vehicles are directed around the back of the church.
- Set up traffic cones by Assembly Line, near where vehicles turn up the hill toward the canopy, and directing vehicles after they drive through for their chicken to Lisburn Road.

Saturday, Sept. 12, 2015 (times vary)

- GRILL CHICKEN (for approx. 3-4 hours)
- BAKE POTATOES (starting promptly at 8:00AM)
- FLAG "MEN" to direct all traffic to Slate Hill Road
- GREETER – Welcomes customers; gives out numbers as well as BBQ and Slate Hill information ahead of runners.
- RUNNERS – Take orders, receive payment, give change, and give order to designated manager.
- MANAGER – Receives order from designated runner, follows the order through the assembly line, and delivers it to the customer with a smile and a thank you.
- CHICKEN PACKERS – 2 persons bag the chickens. 1 person records temperatures & closes Chicken Bags.
- ASSEMBLY LINE WORKERS – package potatoes, rolls & butter, applesauce, cookies, and water bottles. Places dinners in bags.
- BANKER – Supplies runners with change as needed and gives greeter numbers.
- POWER WASH GRILLS
- CLEAN UP- Take down all signs, tables, clean all coolers, put leftover supplies away, dump trash in dumpsters; and clean chicken boxes.

A sign-up list is on the bulletin board in the Fellowship Hall Annex; please choose a job you are willing to do and sign up as soon as possible. Thanks so much for your support of this worthy project which helps fund many different mission activities!

Slate Hill Impressions of the World Conference - 2015

It was a unique experience, bringing more than 7500 people from 80 countries around the world together to worship and celebrate our Anabaptist faith in Harrisburg. Here are a few comments from some of the members of our congregation who attended.

Ben Fredrick -- I was so looking forward to hearing '606' being sung by 7500+ and I was not disappointed! The music throughout the week from the different regions was simply incredible. As were the speakers who brought their own contextualized perspectives on Christianity. And the fellowship with strangers who readily became friends and colleagues.

Sam Zercher -- There were a bunch of fun youth activities, and Bruxy Cavey, who preached the last evening, was amazing.

Henry Zercher -- I enjoyed playing soccer with people from all around the world in the Anabaptist World Cup and listening to Bruxy Cavey.

Isaiah Zercher -- The gaga was fun, and Bruxy Cavey was funny.

Dave Weaver-Zercher -- Attending PA 2015 was a huge highlight of my summer. Singing with Anabaptists from around the world, hosting a Tanzanian church leader, listening to wise speakers, seeing old friends, watching our kids gain a sense that they belong to this body of believers: all of it was amazing.

Valerie Weaver-Zercher -- It was great fun to meet Mennonites from many different nations and cultures. I especially enjoyed getting to know some who volunteered with us in the dining room.

Richard Mininger -- One of the highlights for me was meeting people in the food line or at the tables. It was fun getting to know people from Canada, Holland, India, Japan, and several countries in Africa. I received tempting invitations to come visit churches in Africa.

Nancy Nisly -- What an experience Mennonite World Conference was! I met a past friend/co-worker from the Philippines - half a world away! I met a long term friend of 35 years from Canada!!! The singing was awesome! In taking the workshop, "Is Jesus the Only Way," I again honor God, as I know no one can truly make the claims to be Jesus except the One with the nail prints in His hands! I gained a greater understanding of what it means "to love" from the stories of our African brothers.

Paul Nisly -- Four packed, wonderful days--how does one say anything meaningful in a few words? Seeing and meeting Mennonites from six continents and over 50 countries enlarged my view of the church--and the singing, WOW! What a rich blend of songs from many countries, voices joined in worship of our Lord Jesus.

The sermons on various aspects of the theme "Walking with God" were thoughtful; perhaps most moving was (Congolese pastor) Nzuzi Mukawa's sermon "Walking in Conflict and Reconciliation," which powerfully focused on the story of Abigail, Nabal, and David. Through her intervention Abigail saved her family from death and David from violent bloodshed. How can we be agents of reconciliation in our troubled world?

Ellie Fasick – Wow! I liked driving the little carts. (These were in the children's area.)

Joy Fasick – I loved seeing the diversity in our family! You could look around any room and see people from many nations talking with each other, smiling together, hugging, and enjoying being part of the family of God. And the MUSIC!!! Absolutely fabulous!

Ben Fasick – Wow. Just wow. Conference was great! Brother Frank (Albrecht) was cool.

Matt Fasick – My favorite part was playing games (Giant Dutch Blitz, Human Hungry Hippos, Gaga, etc.) with people from all over the world.

Linda Mininger — I had the privilege of eating lunch on Sunday with Isabel Florez and Luz Elena Francos from Colombia. They were very appreciative of the scarves made for the Mennonite World Conference attendees and given out by MCC. They mentioned how colorful and practical that the scarves are. Also, they really liked the artful skill that made such variety. Both said they would wear them in Colombia, even to church. They are very appreciative of the women who all worked together to make these lovely scarves. They also commented on a good use of resources.

And....

It was a delightful week for me personally. It was a wonderful opportunity to host three persons from Germany in our home. I think what struck me the most about Mennonite World Conference was how persons from all over the world came together to be unified in our love for God, love for others, and desire to serve. The Mennonite Church USA and Lancaster Mennonite Conference seem to be so caught up in what divides us that we have lost sight of what unites us. I saw that last week and felt hopeful for the future of the Mennonite Church worldwide.

Eliezer Gwamaka — Although I spent just one evening at the Mennonite World Conference, it was precious and memorable. I had the opportunity to meet people from different countries around the world, including my own (Tanzania). I visited the Global Village at the conference where I learned more about the Mennonite church in different parts of the world. The sermon and the praise and worship music provided an opportunity to admire the love we share as God's people even though we come from many different places and speak different languages. I am glad the Mennonite World Conference took place during my stay here in central Pennsylvania.

Connect Engage Relate

Connect Engage Relate is our theme for 2015. We encourage everyone to stay alert to the opportunities God provides and to initiate loving interactions with the people in their lives. We know that Jesus called us to spread the Good News of salvation – and building relationships is a first step in answering that call. Focus on listening – with one ear to the person’s story and one ear to God’s leading.

Below you will find lists especially for adults and especially for youth. However, many items on these lists work well for all ages, so check them all out. Each week during August we encourage you to choose one idea from these lists. It could be a different idea each week or you may repeat ideas. Or go “off the list” and follow the other ideas that God gives you! Remember to commemorate the opportunities God provides by placing a stone during the offering time. This is a way to give thanks for God’s provision and presence in each interaction.

Adults:

Invite a friend to come along to the church picnic at Lower Allen Park on August 15.

When eating out, strike up a conversation with your server. If you need a starter question, consider these:

“What do you like most about your job?”

“What local attraction do you most often recommend to tourists? Why?”

“What is the strangest special order anyone has ever placed?”

“Is there something I can pray for for you?”

Invite someone you don’t usually have over to come for dinner or dessert.

If you have children, call a friend to schedule a playdate or picnic at a local park.

Sign-up to work at the chicken barbecue on September 12. You’ll meet many new neighbors!

Invite someone to join you for the Wednesday Walking Club.

Go to a local fire carnival or other community event and look for opportunities to connect with the people you meet.

Something else that God lays on your heart!

Youth:

Invite a friend to come along to the church picnic at Lower Allen Park on August 15.

When you’re at the park or the pool, learn to know a new friend.

Invite a new friend to your home for s’mores or a water battle.

Sign-up to work at the chicken barbecue on September 12. You’ll meet many new neighbors!

Send an email or make a social media post that offers encouragement.

On the first day of school, talk to someone you don’t yet know well.

Any other idea!

Sharing Joy and Fun at Life Time Adult Day Care

On July 17th, four persons from Slate Hill plus Ulli Klemm's boss helped staff carnival games at the Life Time Adult Day Care on the Carlisle Pike. Life Time caters to those with intellectual disabilities and senior citizens who can't be left alone during the day. Ulli has visited this day care, with guitar in hand, monthly for the past year and a half and has always had a blast. A few of the clients from this day care attended the March 2015 Spring Fling at Slate Hill, and came back with raving reviews. Thus, Slate Hill was invited to help with a few carnival games.

While an article in a previous Hill Top did not draw volunteers to provide the clients of this center with some fun, some last minute email appeals did the trick. Rachel Zimmerman offered to do face painting and two sons of newer Slate Hiller, Eni Aroko, Shami (age 15) and Lameck (age 13), joined Ulli in staffing carnival games. Ulli's boss, Shawn, ran the put-put golf game.

According to Peggy Lego, Program Supervisor from Life Time Adult Day Care, "Everyone had a fantastic time! Thank you so much to everyone who came along to help."

If you are ever interested in joining Ulli when he leads residents in folk and spiritual songs, let Ulli Klemm know. Lifetime Adult Day Care is located on the first floor in the building at 3 Crossgate Drive, Mechanicsburg PA 17050. This is a building that sits off the Carlisle Pike in Mechanicsburg behind Denny's and T-Mobile just west of where the exit from and to 581 intersects with the Carlisle Pike. Crossgate is a small street which takes you to the back of a two-story building where Life Time rents space on the first floor.

You may contact Ulli Klemm at ulliklemm@yahoo.com or (724) 464-8748 to learn more about this opportunity or to assist at any time.
